Note for Personnel Branch: Extract from [redacted] letter, 7 September: "During my recent visit at CIA your Procurement office wanted to put me on a piddling, typewriter hack job which didn't interest me at all. They badly misjudged me. I very much appreciated your kind personal reception which you gave me, and I want you to be assured of my continued voluntary cooperative wherever possible, and also of my interest in the possibility of working for CIA, but in quite another category, and preferably in the field."
